CREATING WEB SERVICES PROGRAMS FROM OTHER WEB SERVICES PROGRAMS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE:

A computer program capsule is created from programs that include at least one other web service program. The programs are interconnected and saved as an encapsulated program for use as an encapsulated program or a web service program. The encapsulated program is created and interconnected from a local or remote computer.